

Kentucky State Bar Association.

MEETING IN McCracken COURT HOUSE

Large Gathering of Leaders of Bench and Bar to Listen to Fine Speeches.

Attorney General Wickersham Will Address Public at Kentucky Theater.

Rain did not dampen the interest in the eighth annual meeting of the Kentucky State Bar Association, which began this morning and will continue until tomorrow when the session will close with a banquet. Tonight the big event will be the address on "State Legislation Regarding Foreign Corporations," by Attorney General George W. Wickersham, of Washington. The address will be delivered in the Kentucky theater, and the entire public is invited. No admission fee will be charged.

Owing to the heavy downpour of rain at the hour set for the meeting the friends of business did not begin until 11:35 o'clock in order that all of the members might reach the court house. The meetings are held in the circuit court room, which has been newly frescoed and given a thorough cleaning. The court room presented a neat appearance, while the bench was a bank of ferns. The court room is the coolest place in the city, and today the audience did not suffer from the heat to the extreme.

President John H. Allen rapped for order at 11:35 o'clock and the Rev. G. T. Sullivan made a short prayer. Judge William Reed delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the city. The McCracken County Bar Association and western Kentucky. President John H. Allen replied on behalf of the Kentucky State Bar Association. In the president's address particular attention was called to the enforcement of the sanitary laws of the state. Owing to the fact that no session of the legislature was held last winter, the state laws did not come in for comment, although he mentioned things that were undone. The legislation of the federal government was commented on freely and President Allen thought great good had been done by the government in enforcing the Sherman act.

Lunch at Court House.

It was 1:30 when the state bar association adjourned for lunch in the county court room today, the whole morning program being first completed. Attorney General Wickersham was present at the session and shook hands with all the visiting attorneys. He seemed to enjoy the informal lunch greatly. He will leave at 1:30 tonight.

President John H. Allen in his report referred to the demand for legislative and executive reforms, and admitted the vast influence of Theodore Roosevelt in stimulating and giving point to this demand. He referred to the employers' liability act, the pure food law, the act to promote the safety of railroad employees, the land and homestead amendments, naturalization and immigration laws, national banking law amendments and many others.

He also mentioned the federal prosecutions, especially against conspiracies in restraint of trade. He said it is a source of congratulation that the present national administration has indicated that it has no intention to abandon the strict enforcement of the law.

He believes in the next few years America will have a better, juster, purer government than ever. He added the warning that in the general demand for economic and sociological reforms, it is the duty of the legal profession to see that the demands are not pushed to the extent of forcing the government beyond constitutional bounds.

President Allen referred to the necessity for higher standards for admission to the bar. He referred to a number of recent state decisions and called upon the bar to take the lead in every uplifting movement.

Reports.

Treasurer Dodd reported $1,147.00 in the treasury. Secretary McDowell reported briefly concerning the work of the organization during the year, and W. F. Hradshaw, Jr., of Paducah, read the membership report, showing there are 604 members, of whom 48 are honorary.

The following members died during the year: Judge Jerry R. Morton, Lexington; Charles J. Bronston.

THE TAX COMMISSION MEETING THIS MORNING IS EARNEST AND ENTHUSIASTIC

CIRCUIT JUDGE WM. REED Who welcomed State Bar to Paducah

Circuit Judge William Reed welcomed the state bar association this morning in the following words:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Kentucky State Bar Association: On behalf of the Paducah Bar Association, the citizens of Paducah, and the bar of western Kentucky, I assure you it affords me no small pleasure to extend to you a cordial greeting and a hearty welcome to the city of Paducah, the metropolis of what is known as Jackson's Purchase and of western Kentucky.

We have looked forward to your coming with undiluted feelings of pride and pleasure—of pride, because you do us the honor of holding one of your annual meetings in our city; of pleasure, because of this opportunity for social intercourse with you and exchange of ideas. On the latter point, however, we expect to and doubtless will get much the better of you.

You come to us from different portions of the state; some from the metropolis of the state, the city of Louisville; others from the world-famed Blue Grass regions, central Kentucky; other from the beautiful area at the mouth of the Licking, the northern portion of the state, and still others, so to speak, from the far west.

It is to be hoped that this meeting will prove fruitful in bringing many of you in closer relation and closer touch with many of the members of the bar of western Kentucky who have not heretofore actively participated in your deliberations.

We hope to be able, during your sojourn with us, to manifest such civility towards you, and to treat you so cordially that when you go from us, you will carry with you no lingering regrets that you came. While there are certain social features incident to these annual meetings of this association, the pleasures are, so far as my observation extends, always secondary, and have been made subservient to the main purpose of this organization, that is to say, the upbuilding and the betterment of our noble profession, which always has and doubtless will, so long as men are ruled by law, wield a most potent influence in the affairs of government and the administering of justice.

It has been said by an eminent orator and statesman, that the government of the United States is, and always has been, a lawyer's government, and it is true that nearly all of our presidents, I believe all but three or four, were lawyers; four-fifths of our cabinet ministers and a large majority of both houses of our congress have always been members of the bar. The same, to a great extent, is and always has been true, of the executive and legislative departments of our respective state governments, of course, exclusively so as to the judicial department.

It has always been true that when the organic law of our nation, or any one of our states was to be formed or reformed, we looked mainly to the lawyers. It is true, that when states are to be written, when the rules governing civil conduct are to be conceived and enforced, we must turn, mainly to the legal profession. So often does the public look to the members of the profession for guidance and representation in public affairs, it behooves the profession, and there should be a burning desire in the heart of every member thereof, to maintain the highest standard of professional integrity, as well as of professional fitness on the part of those engaged in its arduous and exacting duties.

Though we may not hope to be able to make our profession as chaste as ice, or as pure as snow, or at all times free from calumny, or even from just criticism, yet by these annual gatherings, we have generated in the profession a sentimentality.

Those Who Attended Are Greatly Interested and Everybody Takes Part in Discussion.

When the tax commission, appointed by the governor to make an investigation concerning the state revenue system, met in the council chamber of the city hall this morning at 9:30 o'clock there was a small but enthusiastic gathering of the representative business men of Paducah present.

The object of this meeting was to learn the opinions of the business men concerning the present system.

Mr. William H. Mackoy, of Covington, presided as chairman of the meeting, and as this is a voluntary act everyone felt at liberty to express his views.

Mr. Mackoy opened the meeting with a short address, saying that this is merely a volunteer act and service on his part and that the people of Paducah should have an advisory commission to ascertain the views of citizens of this state and examine systems in other states, and that amendments be voted upon.

The following gentlemen made brief talks: Messrs. W. H. Mackoy, William Hummel, F. M. Fisher, William Marble, D. A. Yelzer, Frank Lucas, J. P. Smith, J. A. Rudy and John K. Hendrick.

The opinions expressed by these men were that taxes work hardships on the farmers, as people in the city limits are delinquent about paying taxes and the city limits should be extended; that in order to increase the population and bring in capital from other cities the city should decrease the rate of taxation; also that the business men should take more interest in these affairs and send better representatives to the legislature.

People in this state and out their money to other states to be loaned because of the low rate of interest on mortgages. The assessors should add a third column which gives the value the owner puts on his property for sale. This could be done by a slight change in the law.

As the bar association held its meeting this morning, only a few being present, it was decided to continue this meeting until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Louisville, July 7. (Special.)—Attilla Cox, former president of the Columbia Trust company and the Henderson route, died this morning.

TARIFF PASSED, EXCEPTING THE RESERVATIONS

Washington, July 7.—Senator Aldrich announced shortly after noon he thought the tariff bill would pass within a few hours. It is rumored the corporation tax will be reduced from 2 to 1 per cent and an inheritance tax to the same amount will be introduced. After the routine business Aldrich invited the senators to make a reservation of amendments on which they desired a separate vote. Senator Bailey made the first reservation, the corporation tax provision. He will offer an income tax as a substitute. Hepburn reserved zinc; Stone, of Missouri, hides and leather; McLaughlin, farming implements. Others included on cotton ties, meats, sugar and wool in the Philippine sections. After the reservations all amendments, not thus withheld, were adopted without opposition.

Additional tariff reservations, maximum and minimum, customs on courts, and countervailing duty on oil, wool, moving picture films, chalk, and writing paper, the tariff commission, mineral waters, tiles, asphalt, earthenware, steel plates, chrome, models of invention, and clay, glue, gypsum, figs, raisins, currants, flax, fabrics, brushes, dolls, rubber goods and scrap rubber.

GEORGE W. WICKERSHAM, WHO SUCCEEDS BONAPARTE AS ATTORNEY GENERAL.

George W. Wickersham, whom Mr. Taft has chosen for attorney general in his cabinet, is a member of the law firm of Strong & Cadwalder, Wall street, New York, and is one of the best versed men in corporation law in America. He is a close friend of Henry W. Taft, who is also a member of the same firm. He was counsel for the Interborough-Metropolitan interests in New York, but voluntarily resigned that post last fall because he did not wish to embarrass Mr. Taft on account of Henry W. Taft's connection with his own law firm. He hails from Pennsylvania and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

COUNTY HIGH IS NOT TO BE BUILT UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Owing to the delay in making arrangements for the erection of the new county high school building at Heath, it has been decided to not attempt its construction this summer. Instead the county school officials have leased the college building at Lone Oak, where the first session of the county high school will be held. The plans for the building have not been completed, and the work has been stopped temporarily.

The county school officials realized that the building could not be erected by September, and thought it would be better to go slow about the construction. It will be erected by September, 1910. It is probable that the work will begin early next spring, and the contractor will have plenty of time. The building will be constructed of marbleite.

Prof. J. S. Ragsdale has been elected principal of the school. It is thought that one teacher will be sufficient for the first session, but if the attendance justifies it it is the intention of the school board to employ an assistant. The session will begin September 6, and will continue for nine months. The consolidated school will be taught in the same building with the high school.

July 31 the divisional boards will meet to elect teachers for any vacancies that may exist in the teaching corps. There are only a few vacancies, as there was a large number of applicants for the positions.

TAXPAYERS NOTICE.

The Kentucky Tax Commission and Advisory Board hold a meeting with the citizens of Paducah tomorrow, Thursday, July 8, at 9 a. m., at city hall, for the purpose of discussing the tax question, and the laws pertaining thereto, with a view of securing needed legislation in the interest of Kentucky and the citizens. An expression is desired by this board on the part of the Paducah people as to what changes in the law they consider necessary and best. This is a most important conference, to which the taxpayers are urgently requested to come. Respectfully, JAMES P. SMITH, Mayor.

Three More Days of Racing This Week

BLACK AND WHITE MEN ALTERNATE ON CITY'S STACK

Two strikes in two days is the record of the employees of the James Jewell & Sons, who are erecting the brick smoke stack at the city light-lag plant. Yesterday morning the colored laborers struck because the contractors refused to raise wages. The stack will be 110 feet high, and already has been erected about 75 feet. On account of the draft through the stack the workmen laying brick at the summit struck and the others followed through sympathy. Yesterday afternoon white workmen were secured, and the work progressed well until this morning when the white men struck for higher wages. The contractor refused to grant the concession and the colored laborers returned to work.

NIGHT RIDERS SERVE NOTICE IN PAPER

Madisonville, Ky., July 7. (Special.)—The Madisonville Journal received a letter, signed "night riders," warning those planters who have not pooled, that they will be whipped and the barns burned.

PEOPLE PERCH IN TREES AND RIDE BOARDS

MISSOURI FLOOD-CONDITION JUST BECOMING APPARENT.

IMPOSSIBLE TO GET FOOD TO THEM BECAUSE OF WATER.

Kansas City, Mo., July 7. (Special.)—Pattonsburg, Mo., a town of 1,200 inhabitants in Davies county, is threatened with destruction from the floods of the Grand river, Big river and Grindstone creek. The water is 8 feet deep in the streets and still rising. Assistance was sent from Kansas City and St. Joseph. Telephone and telegraph wires are down. The last reports 3 are known to be dead. People were driven to the roofs and some in trees. Great loss of life is feared. The flood is sweeping towards Chillicothe, with great damage in that vicinity.

Terrible Condition.

Kansas City, July 7.—Pattonsburg is located just above the forks of the Big and Grand rivers. Other towns in the neighborhood are cut off and isolated farmers are heavy sufferers. There is great loss of livestock reported. Hundreds of refugees are in school houses, houses, sheds and barns and trees are floating down the flood. It is feared there will be a heavy loss of life in the farm districts. Fire destroyed the home of Dr. T. C. Worley. The family escaped on boards and have been in a tree top all night. A wagon load of boats left Chillicothe to rescue eight persons in trees. Pattonsburg bakeries and groceries are out of commission. A train load of provisions were sent from Chillicothe, but returned because tracks are impassable. A relief train later went from Gallatin to the edge of the flood, where supplies were transferred to boats and taken to the marooned city. Refugees report the swift current makes the rescue work difficult. Six section hands sent out by the Wabash road to keep driftwood away from the Grand river bridge are missing. It is believed they have been swept away and drowned.

I. C. & T. C.

It was current today that the Illinois Central railroad will take over the Tennessee Central railroad next Monday. Officials of both railroads held an all night conference at Princeton last night, but the details could not be learned. That the Illinois Central railroad would take over the Tennessee Central again has been the opinion of the railroad men for several months. The Tennessee Central railroad will be a connecting link with the Central of Georgia which was purchased recently.

POSTOFFICE REPORT FOR THE FISCAL YEAR

The report of the postoffice for the year beginning July 1, 1908, and ending June 30, 1909, is as follows: Receipts this year, $18,127.85; last year, $16,258.07. Receipts for June, 1909, $3,755.50; last year, $5,430.94. The increase for the year is $1,867.88 and for the month of June, $224.56. Total number of circulars sent out for the year, 145,380. Money orders issued to rural routes, 1,617; special deliveries, 6,118; registered letters sent out, 7,873, 240 of which were brought in by rural carriers, and 243 by city carriers. There was 13,270 pieces of registered mail received during the year.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

Capt. W. D. Thompson, custodian of Massac park, was horror-stricken when a young boy brought him a ten-inch stick of dynamite yesterday morning, which he had taken out of one of the ramons on the breast-works. It had evidently been placed there before the Fourth of July celebration of the consolidated Sunday schools of Memphis and the Woman's club, attended by over 600 children and many of their elders. While the youngsters were celebrating many cannon crackers were placed in the mouths of the big cannon. Some one also cut the rope on the flagstaff, so that the stars and stripes could not be hoisted. Captain Thompson is on the trail of a party suspected, and if his misdeed can be proven, he will be dealt with severely.

WEATHER

Unsettled weather with rain to night and probably Thursday. Highest temperature yesterday, 94; lowest today, 68. Rainfall .10.

Smallpox, Prevalence in Country.

With almost 10,000 cases of smallpox reported in the United States in the first four months of the year by the Federal marine hospital service, it certainly cannot be said that smallpox as an epidemic disease has been overcome. The great change is that the disease is no longer anything like what it once was in violence. Most of the cases are mild, and some are so slight that the diagnosis is difficult. The exceptional cases of victims who have never been vaccinated and who get the disease in its worst form do not serve to alarm a community. And even fifty or a hundred cases of the mild form in one of the smaller cities, no uncommon thing today, do not produce the panic that would certainly result if the cases were so severe as formerly.

Illinois is unfortunately the worst state in the Union for this disease. While Chicago, owing to the steady watchfulness of the health authorities, is almost exempt, having had only eleven cases in four months, the state as a whole has had 1,275 cases or more than one-eighth of the total for the country. Under such conditions one may well regret that the legislature did not see fit to pass the bill for giving better protection by vaccination. This is especially true since even the slightest attacks of the disease—as light as to be hardly noticeable—may form when the infection reaches some person not well protected physically against it.

In England there has been some increasing laxity in local and central administrative regulations. Not long ago the postmaster general issued an order excusing postal employees with "conscientious objections" from periodical revaccinations, though not excusing any one from original vaccination. This is being sharply criticized, since, if one has once been vaccinated, revaccination within a reasonable number of years can hardly be ever injurious, or even uncomfortable, while it is certain to extend the duration of the original protection, primarily to the vaccinated individual, and secondarily to the community.

Whatever else is done in the way of protection against smallpox, the continuance of periodic revaccination should never be in doubt.—Chicago Record-Herald.

TRACK WAS SLOW BUT SPORT GOOD

FAIR ASSOCIATION RACES ARE GREATLY ENJOYED.

Winners of Several Days' Events at the Fair Grounds Yesterday Afternoon.

WELL BALANCED CONTESTS

THE WINNERS.

2:30 Pace—Robert H. Time, 2:21 1/4.

Free-for-all trot—Red Wood. Time 2:21.

Mule race—Kate.

Five-eighths dash—Gus Cuntot. Time 1:00 1/2.

One-mile dash—Roseburg II. Time 1:45 1/2.

Rain made the race track slow yesterday afternoon, especially for the last heats of the races. Considering the condition of the track, good time was made by the horses. Before the races began a slight rain fell and many spectators were kept away from the park. However, the weather cleared and the first heats were run under a clear sky, but before the close a heavy rain fell, which made the track sloppy. No accidents marred the day, and the horses were in good shape after the races.

The summary of the races as they finished Tuesday is as follows:

First race, 2:30 pace, three in five. Purse $200:

Heats—

Robert H. 1 2 3 4 5

Mamie T. 1 2 3 3 2

Lloyd J. 4 1 2 2 3

Patchen Heart 2 0 0 0 0

Black Girl 5 0 0 0 0

Time, 2:21 1/4, 2:31 1/4, 2:27, 2:22, 2:31 1/4.

Patchen Heart and Black Girl were drawn in the second heat.

Second race, free-for-all trot, three in five. Purse $300.

Heats—

Red Wood 1 2 3 4 5

Turkey's Star and Crescent.

No matter what happens in Constantinople, the star and crescent is likely to remain the emblem of the metropolis on the Bosphorus to a remote future. It is not a Turkish emblem. Constantine antedated the Turk at that spot by more than eleven centuries. The emblem is older than Constantine. Long before the Roman Emperor set up his eastern capital there and renamed the tower for himself the Byzantines were besieged by a neighboring enemy who, one night, tried to storm the place under cover of darkness. As they advanced a cloud rolled away, revealing the conjunction of the planet Venus with the new moon, which is one of the most beautiful phenomena of the nocturnal sky. The light exposed the skulking invaders, the walls were manned and the enemy driven back. From that moment the star and crescent became the emblem of Byzantium. It couldn't have a better one.—St. Louis Republic.

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS.

Do Not Endanger Life When a Paducah Citizen Shows You the Cure.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them?

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Paducah testimony:

W. H. Smith, 1309 South Third street, Paducah, Ky., says: "It is now almost ten years since I first used Doan's Kidney Pills, but I will never forget the great benefit this remedy brought me. I suffered for years from kidney trouble and was steadily growing worse. My back ached constantly and there was a steady pain through my kidneys. The kidney secretions were highly colored and proved that my kidneys were affected. Finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and to my delight they gave me immediate relief. I continued their use until cured and during the time which has since passed, I have had no return of kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

How the Cubs Learned the Signals Used by the Cincinnati Baseball.

The baseball expert, Hugh S. Fullerton contributes an article to the May American Magazine in which he gives many instances illustrating the fine points of the game. One of these is as follows:

"During the progress of a game the manager, both on the field and the bench, directs all the plays, moves his men around, instructs each batter what he is to attempt, signals to convieners on what ball or strike a base runner is to attempt a steal or hit and run," and frequently he issues three or four orders from the bench to one batter, trying to "outguess the other fellow."

"Each man on a team has his private signals with the batters who precede or follow him, and the batter, receiving orders from the manager, signals the base runner exactly what to do. Last summer, while the Chicago team was badly crippled and changing batting order almost every day, Sheppard reached first one afternoon and Chance was following him. As Chance came to bat he was winging two bats, and he tossed one back of him with his left hand. On the first ball pitched Sheppard attempted a steal and was thrown out. 'What did you go down for?' demanded Chance later. 'I thought I got the signal,' said Sheppard, attempting a steal and was out. 'Well you tossed that bat away with your left hand, and you usually throw it with your right, so I thought you'd made a new signal while I was out of the game.'

"Sheppard's blunder shows how closely every movement of a batter is watched, not only by his fellow players but by his opponents. In one game last year Evers and Kling analyzed and discovered every hit and run signal used by the Cincinnati club merely by their powers of observation. Gansel, then manager of the club, signaled entirely by words and by close attention and listening for every unnatural phrase or expression the Cubs secured the entire code used by their opponents, and knew as well as the Cincinnati players what Gansel was ordering."

A Leading Question.

A prominent church worker of Baltimore was delivering one Sabbath a talk to a class comprising pupils who lived in a rather squalid section of the town, says Harper's Weekly.

The good man touched upon the quality of truthfulness, and, at one point in his address, he said:

"I want every little boy who has never told a lie to raise his hand."

Not a hand went up, but a lad in the rear rose to ask a question.

"What is it, my boy?"

"Well, sir, what I want to ask is, is it a lie if nobody ever knows?"

"So Cayuse Charley met his fate at the hands of a posse?"

"Yep," answered Three-finger Sam.

"What was the trouble?"

"His innocent identity was a lack of judgment as to speed. He helped himself to a horse, but didn't pick one that was fast enough to keep ahead of the posse as went after him."—Washington Star.

BUSY TIMES, LAST BONUS, STICK AND WIN

VOTING LIMIT.

From this time, until further notice, no candidate will be permitted to cast more than enough certificates, or pink slip votes, to place him more than 5,000 ahead of the leader at the preceding publication of scores.

For instance, if the leader of the entire contest has 20,000 votes to his credit at the last publication of scores, a candidate will not be allowed to vote more than enough certificates to make his score 25,000 at the next publication.

This restriction does not apply to the coupon votes clipped from The Sun or associate papers.

No candidate will be permitted to lead two days in succession if any other candidate has enough votes to pass him.

Busy times are here now for the contest department, the way that the scores are changing every day is remarkable, to watch it is very interesting, and you would be surprised to know how many inquiries we have from friends of the contestants, the phone is ringing all the time, some one wanting to know how Miss or Mr. So and So stands today. Hence the paper is printed, it seems as if they cannot wait on the edition to come out, so anxious are they to learn the result of each day's balloting. Our advice to the candidates is to vote early and often so that when we receive inquiries about you we can answer in a way that will make you feel proud of the work that you are doing, and let your friends know that you are in the race to win.

Last Bonus Offer.

Remember that this is the last week that we are going to offer a bonus on old business, so you had better get out and collect up those renewals promised you before the end of this week and get the result for the extra votes which they will bring. If any one has promised you to renew their subscription, get them to do it NOW. Explain to them how much more it means to you and we are confident they will come to your aid while this offer is on. Next week the bonus on NEW business will be cut again so while you are trying to collect up your old subscriptions do not forget the new ones that were promised since this contest started and get in on this week's bonus at least two or three times, let us impress upon you the value of these certificates, they count amazingly to the wind-up of a contest. Only three days remain in which to take advantage of this week's offer, so do not delay, make them count as they never have before.

Every day we are receiving nominations from different places, people are finding out what a fine opportunity this is to secure one of the magnificent prizes and are sending in the names of their friends. It is also well to remember that the coupon vote or daily ballot, will be withdrawn after this week and from now on this is going to be the hardest fought contest that was ever inaugurated. HAIR THAT FASCINATES

Gilbert's Drug Store is willing to guarantee Parisian Sage because they know it gives satisfaction to all who use it.

Most druggists know that there is no hair preparation that gives so much satisfaction as Parisian Sage, which is now on sale all over America.

The reasons are many:
A large, generous bottle for 50 cents.

The only hair tonic that is sure to kill the dandruff germs.

A rigid guarantee to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Keeps the scalp cool in summer and free from unpleasant odors.

Will make any woman's hair bewitchingly charming in one week.

Grows hair and makes it soft, brilliant and luxuriant.

And here's more proof:

"Some fourteen years ago I had typhoid fever. It caused my hair to nearly all fall out. I have since used and tried several hair tonics and re-growers, but nothing ever made my hair grow in until I tried a bottle of Parisian Sage. The use of Parisian Sage cooled and cleared the scalp, removed all the dandruff, and left my hair silky and glossy in appearance, besides making the new hair grow in. Today I have an abundance of hair, hardly any gray hairs, and no dandruff. Is it any wonder that I praise Parisian Sage?"—Mrs. Ann E. Moody, 1906 Hainbridge St., Manchester, Va., April 2, '09

Leading druggists everywhere sell Parisian Sage. Gilbert's drug store sells it for 50 cents, on the money-back plan. The girl with the unburnt hair is on every package. Mail orders filled by Giloux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole American makers.

route or district, go there yourself, for sometimes the ones who want before merely advertised the fact and you can get the subscriptions that they mislead, we have often known this to be the case; the greatest thing to do is to stick, remember what our friend said about the postage stamp, "its usefulness consists in its ability to stick until it gets there." Well, it is the same thing with contest work, the ones who stick will certainly get the prizes when they fall.

Did you ever stop to consider what it means to be the winner in a contest of this sort, you not only get the prize but all the honor and glory attending same. It means that you are the most popular person in the district where you are working, looking at it in this light we are sure you will be inspired to work as you have never done before, and there only remain five weeks and three days in which to do this; plenty of time, if you spend it in the right way in which to win the prize that you have set your heart on. Do not forget that we are always ready and willing to assist you in any way that we can. Phone or write us and we will gladly respond.

As was stated before if you do not want to be among the number that are going to be out in next Monday's publication, send us in at least three subscriptions as soon as you can, but no later than Saturday, and then we will know that you intend to be one of the lucky fifty-seven when the votes are counted.

Tired Women

Need a Tonic

When the daily, endless cares of your household duties begin to seem drudgery to you, don't become cross and irritable. When you're tired and worn out, when the pleasure is gone from caring for your family, it's not your mind that rebels but your overwrought physical organization. You need a tonic, a woman's tonic to rebuild your strength and restore your health. Try Cardui, the popular, successful, woman's medicine which, during more than half a century, has been found to relieve quickly the weakness and ailments from which only women suffer.

Cardui is prepared from vegetable ingredients, without any harmful qualities. It can do you no harm and there is every reason to believe it will be of much benefit to you.

Mrs. J. L. Sanders, Tennessee City, Tenn., tried Cardui and, regarding her experience, she writes: "I have used Cardui for several years and have always found it to be a good medicine. Last fall I was all run down, hardly able to drag around. I took three bottles of Cardui and began to improve as soon as I began taking it. I recommend Cardui to other suffering women."

Cardui is for sale at all reliable drug stores. Try it. "It will do you good."

Daily Thought.

"Character is what we make of life's conditions."

Of course, the National Woman's Suffrage league selected one of the Kentucky Clays among its officers.

Louisville is planning a ter-centennial celebration of the beginning of her filter plant, which is just completed.

The Women's Freedom league intends to call on King Edward. Will he instruct the butler to lie like a gentleman?

The city of Norwich, Connecticut, founded in 1659, and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, base their claims for fame on entirely different grounds.

A record of only 54 killed and 1,720 wounded indicates that the Fourth of July soon will be as safe and sane as the Spanish-American war.

In phasing on the automobile speed ordinance the general council must remember the measure is not primarily intended for the benefit of automobilists but for the protection of pedestrians, and it is solely to the welfare of the latter the lawmakers must look.

Mrs. M. T. Scott, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, declares that Bishop Williams' remarks about patriotic societies in general and the decadence of American spirit are not worthy of attention; so we won't make any comment.

THE STATE BAR.

From the beginning of authentic history the legal profession has attracted the brainiest men; its members have been the law makers, as well as law interpreters; and the bar has furnished leading spirits in every important civic enterprise. The learning, intelligence and peculiar training and experience of the lawyers fit them especially for civic duties; and assuming that every man's obligation to the whole body of society is greater than his obligation to anyone individual, the lawyer is responsible to the public for the manner in which he conducts himself in all his official and professional relations. We have noted that the medical profession has of late years come into full recognition of the fact that its duty extends to such matters as public sanitation and prevention of diseases, and history affords many brilliant examples of lawyers, who gave their time and service patriotically to their country. Our own history teems with the achievements of great lawyers, gifted with foresight and breadth of vision. Admitting that the profession has developed two parasites, the corporation lawyer, who manipulates legislation in the interest of his clients, and his shadow, the ambulance chaser; we are convinced the great body of the profession still is actuated by the same high ideals and possesses the same civic zeal that prompted the work which perfected our present government.

We welcome to Paducah the Kentucky State Bar association, which stands second to none in the Union for brilliancy and power. From the earliest days Kentucky has produced statesmen and forensic champions of the first grade, and her men have not deteriorated.

We are proud to entertain such an association; and trust that this meeting will be rich in public benefit; that the members in attendance will receive from the addresses a renewed realization of their responsibility for the progress of this nation toward the perfection of its ideals; and their obligation to favor laws in the interest of their clients, but the whole people.

THE SUPREME COURT AND THE KEEFOOT JULY.

Despite the bitter words of Attorney General Caldwell, we are not of a disposition to denounce the Tennessee supreme court out of hand. It is true that the circuit court, which convicted the keefoot night riders, was reversed on technicalities, and there was nothing in the record to change the popular verdict that the defendants were guilty of the murder of Quentin Tamm; but if the trial court permitted irregularities in the selection of a jury, contrary to the well known laws of Tennessee designed to protect the accused, the supreme court was right in reversing Judge Jones, and he should be censured for his conduct.

There is more probability that the trial court was swayed by popular prejudice against the defendants, than that the appellate court was swayed by any influence in favor of the accused; but we do not assume that either court was influenced. We have plenty of room for complaint at the law's delay, while practically bare a poor man from seeking redress in our courts, and the technicalities provided for the protection of the accused at a time when persecution was possible, which now enable malefactors to escape their desert; but legal procedure must be fixed and certain, and short cuts to what appears to be justice in one case, may set a precedent that results in gross injustice in another.

If we blame anyone in this case, we blame the trial court, which permitted technical errors to render efforts at punishment abortive and our principal concern is that it will be well nigh impossible to secure a jury for the second trial. There is much buncombe about forming and expressing opinions on a case. Any intelligent human being, hearing a state of facts, will form a conclusion based on those facts. He can't help it; for while he has a mind that mind will not. But such an opinion should not interfere with the ability of a reasonable man to discard it on entering the jury box, and with mind free from prejudice hear the evidence and form a fair and just conclusion. We do not believe the law goes, or ever contemplated going to the extent of excluding intelligence from the jury, and in this day of rapid transit and the daily newspapers, permitting only the ignorant, illiterate and those incapable of forming an opinion to sit in judgment on their peers.

HARMON IN 1912?

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat this morning, of Ohio, for the Democratic nomination for president in 1912. It says:

"The dinner to Governor Harmon in Columbus next week will be sure to attract national attention. Ohio is the largest Republican state which has been giving any favors to Democrats in recent times. Minnesota, which Governor Johnson carried three times in succession, has only a few electoral votes, and it is outside of the presidential nomination zone. Indiana, which Governor Marshall carried last November, has furnished a few men whose names were mentioned in connection with the presidency and contributed one man to that office. But Marshall lacks the popular qualities of Harmon, and his state lacks the electoral votes which would make it much of an asset to any party unless in a very close election."

"Governor Harmon has certain elements of attractiveness. His service as attorney general in Cleveland's second cabinet gave him a national name. He is strong both with the old legitimists in his party and with the Bryanites. Every Republican saw that the Democrats, in choosing Harmon for their gubernatorial nominee in 1908, selected their most popular man. He will be renominated for governor in 1910, and the prestige which his record has given him thus far will make him formidable. If he carries his state next year, and if he makes no mistakes in office in the succeeding twelve months, he will undoubtedly have a powerful following in the convention of 1913. In local politics the Ohio Republicans are erratic. They elected Herrick governor in 1903 by 114,000 plurality, but he was defeated at the polls in 1905 by Patterson. In nominating Harris in 1908 they courted the defeat which they received. For several reasons the Ohio campaign of 1910 will attract the country's attention."

STATE PRESS.

Kentucky State Journal.

If a case can be made against the Cumberland Telegraph and Telephone company for permitting the use of its lines to furnish news to the pool room in Jeffersonville, then Attorney General Breathitt will proceed against the company legally, with the view of revoking the charter of the company. In a letter to Scott Bullitt, of Louisville, Attorney General Breathitt said that he thought the statements of Mr. Bullitt showed that the company was violating the provisions of the Wilhelm anti-pool room law, if Mr. Bullitt was correct in the presentation of the case, and that he thought the company could be proceeded against legally.

Courier-Journal.

Among the timely and notable addresses at the Kentucky Press association was one by M. H. Thatcher, state inspector and examiner, on the necessity of uniform inspection and accounting laws for Kentucky. This is a matter to which the state newspapers might profitably devote some attention. Kentucky has suffered from the lack of such a comprehensive system and Mr. Thatcher expresses it well when he says:

"If it is necessary for any private business enterprise to have a thorough system of accounts, and regular audits and inspections, how much greater is the necessity for each public business enterprise, whether the central government or any department thereof, or the local government, or any department thereof, to be governed by similar strict business methods."

"On these points all must agree, though here and there the designing, the corrupt, or the misinformed, may object. If one people were interested in but one county, one city, one town, or one district in the state, there would be no need for what is termed 'Uniform Accounting,' though there would yet remain the need for intelligently kept accounts for the particular community."

The state is a vast machine and in that machine are many complexities. Any system that tends to uniformity or to greater simplicity in methods must needs be an improvement if it is intelligently administered. The results of haphazard accounting have been shown in the frequent reports of irregularities in the offices of clerks and other officials. Occasional reports of Inspector Thatcher have been illuminative in this respect as showing the laxness prevailing in some quarters. Shortage of varying amounts have been found in some offices which from their location and importance, might naturally be supposed to be well regulated and carefully conducted.

A former county clerk is now in jail in Paducah because of a shortage of several thousand dollars in his office, due principally to padding claims. The case of Judge Hooe, who fled thousands by the same method while a clerk in the state auditor's office, is still fresh in the public mind. There is hardly a doubt that petty "grafting" of this kind has been prevalent in various localities. Overcharges of more than $3,000 in two counties have been exposed recently by Mr. Thatcher's investigation. Instances where the shortages have been comparatively small are too numerous to mention, but in the aggregate these will amount to a large sum. Much of this is due to ignorance. Some of it is "graft" pure and simple. Whatever the cause there should be less of it and with the proper scheme of accounting in force it would be eliminated or reduced to insignificant proportions.

What is aimed at by those who are urging the movement for uniform inspection is admirably summarized by Mr. Thatcher in his Easton Springs address:

"Inspection, in its full sense, and as we hope by law to apply it in Kentucky, means that the accounts of every public office and department in the state, whether of state, county, city, town or school district or other taxing subdivision or unit shall be rigidly and in a strictly non-partisan way examined under the supervision of a state bureau of inspection at timely intervals, usually once a year, but without notice and due report therefor made, published and disseminated for public information and advantage. The requirements as to classification and uniformity of all public accounts."

A LITTLE RED SPOT

Novel Experiment by Which It May Be Made to Disappear.

A peculiar feature about posmah, the new skin discovery is that no one is asked to buy it without first sending to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City, for an experimental sample and applying same to an affected part of the skin, about the size of a silver dollar. It will clear the spot so treated in twenty-four hours—a remarkable visual demonstration of its powers.

While posmah has been mentioned principally in connection with the cure of eczema, the most stubborn of skin diseases, it must be remembered that when used for itch, hives, pimples, blotches, acne, itching feet, scaly scalp, chafing of infants and similar minor skin troubles its action is all the more pronounced, results being seen after an overnight application. As only a small quantity of posmah is necessary to cure such cases, a special fifty-cent package, usually sufficient, has been placed on sale at Gilbert's and R. W. Walker & Co.'s, and other leading drug stores in Paducah and throughout the country.

Offered to Women Golf Players Captured by Country Club.

Chicago, July 7.—The Higgins trophy, offered to teams of women of the Western Golf association, went to the Midlothian Country club, Chicago, by virtue of the play-off of a tie between that club and the Los Angeles club. The Midlothians finished 15 down on par (102 for women) while their Los Angeles rivals were 18 down. When the contest was held a week ago the Midlothians and Los Angeles were tied, each being six down. It is here made par golf impossible.

FLOODS

DOING GREAT DAMAGE IN MISSOURI.

Nebraska Also Is Suffering From Heavy Hains and Rushing Waters.

Chillicothe, Mo., July 7.—Reports of an evening show alarming flood conditions both in northeast and northwest forks of Grand river. Damage to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars is reported from Trenton, that town being isolated by high waters. There has been no loss of human life but the owners of fancy livestock are heavy losers. Traffic on the Rock Island road is demoralized and at Pattonburg, the west fork of the Grand river, is running through the town, the Wabash depot and switch yards.

Arthur Flske, depot agent at Gault since early yesterday without food. The efforts of the rescuers to reach him have failed and the water is now three feet deep in the depot and still rising.

Severe Floods in Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., July 7.—Train service is demoralized in southeast Nebraska on account of floods. Three days' heavy rainfall have caused all small streams to leave their banks. Six and a half feet of water cover the Union Pacific tracks south of Beatrice and there is a washout between Beatrice and Lincoln. The Burlington has a washout near Beatrice but the trains are able to run by making detours.

The water is over the Burlington tracks at Elk creek and there are small washouts on the same line between Tecumseh and Table Rock and Auburn. The Missouri Pacific has had a washout on the Crete branch. Farm lands are flooded and much damage has been done to the crops.

Minnesota Waterway Commission.

St. Paul, July 7.—Acting under authority of the law legislature Governor Johnson has appointed the Minnesota inland waterway commission. This commission will investigate the feasibility of constructing a gigantic canal from the head of Lake Superior at Duluth to the Mississippi river, ending at a point just below the Twin Cities.

ment that has greatly, and will continue to improve past conditions. It is, however, a regrettable statement to make, but we all must confess it to be true, that the profession in Kentucky, is not abreast of the times, and that it has not kept pace with the advancement in other states or in other callings, and especially with other professional callings in our state. Things have changed, and almost everything of which the mind can conceive, has changed with them. There is, however, one marked exception, and that is the requirements for admission to the bar in Kentucky. This seems to be a "stand pat" proposition.

It is quite as easy for one to obtain admission to our profession today in Kentucky as it was twenty-five, fifty or even a hundred years ago. Not so, however, with other professions in the state. No man can enter the medical profession without a diploma from a reputable school of medicine, and in addition stand an examination before the state board of examiners, provided by legislation for that purpose. We also have a state board of pharmacy, a state board of dentistry, and no one can become a member of either of these professions without coming up to the high requirements for admission, and without obtaining a certificate of qualification from these respective state boards. Favoritism is a thing of the past in these professions; every man desiring to enter either of them is placed upon an exact equality.

So what we need for our profession and what we must continue to battle for above everything else, are those absolute essentials, a higher standard of qualification and requirements and uniformity of examination for admission to the bar, and until we get them the profession will continue to suffer from the admission of unqualified and unfitted persons.

Why, a man cannot obtain a certificate to teach a common school in Kentucky without standing a written examination of two days' duration, the questions to be answered, having been prepared by the state board of education, but the same man can read law for a few weeks or months and find some place in Kentucky where he can be admitted to the bar. If there ever was a reason for laxity in this regard, that reason has long since passed away.

Our whole country is now dotted over with schools of every character literary schools, medical schools, dental schools, schools of pharmacy, theological schools, and if you please, law schools, so that an education, either literary or professional is within the reach of every man.

This association is to be commended for its persistent and patriotic efforts to secure better qualifications and uniformity of examination for admission to the bar, and it is to be hoped that it will ultimately succeed in its efforts.

No man ought to be allowed to enter the profession merely to become a matter in the law. No man wanting the integrity or mental fitness should be admitted. The duties of the place are too important; the rights of the public and of its citizens are too sacred to be entrusted to professional incompetence. If I should assume to advise young men on this subject, I would say, do not enter the legal profession unless you intend to devote your life to hard study, and unless you intend to battle for that place in its ranks, where it is said David pleased Uriah. I have spent my mature years in the study of the law, and often feel, and perhaps more often should feel, that I am still a mere tyro in the law.

Perhaps these remarks may be considered not exactly appropriate in this address, but I cannot refrain from making them, however this question will be so much better discussed by able members of this association, that I may pass to some lighter comment.

We are vain enough to believe that we have succeeded in inducing you to visit and to hold one of your annual meetings in one of the most beautiful little cities in Kentucky, its railroad facilities are far above the average; its natural advantages are unequalled; the majestic waters of three navigable and beautiful rivers, the Ohio, Tennessee and Cumberland, roll by its door, and the Father of Waters, the great Mississippi, is only a few miles away. It is second in point of commercial importance in the state, and first in proportion to its population. Its citizens are progressive, enterprising, genial and hospitable. Its lawyers are able and learned in the law—genial and hall fellows, well met. Most of them, it is true, are country bred, but you will find them, generally, city broke, and quite a number of them will go with you any gall you may desire to travel.

Our women are intellectual, fascinating and beautiful beyond my power to describe. Perhaps on this point, I can do no better than to call to my aid, and to quote from that apostle of civic reform, Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, who recently toured our state, and made hot times in many of its old towns, both day and night. She said in a public speech at the Broadway Methodist church in this city that she was told in Bowling Green—which place I have always regarded as the very seat and center of culture and good judgment—that she would not find the highest type of feminine beauty, or the cream of Kentucky womanhood until she reached the city of Paducah, and she declared that she had found the statement to be true. Her remark was vociferously applauded by at least 500 Paducah ladies, each of whom doubtless believing that her statement could not be refuted. Need I say more on this subject? This seems to me to be absolutely conclusive of the question.

I may say, gentlemen, that if any of you are spiritually inclined, you will find our little city dotted over with beautiful churches, each equipped with an organ, a choir and an excellent pastor, and I hope it will not be considered improper for me to say that if any of you are spiritually inclined, that our local brands of Brookhill, Jack Beani, Old Terrell, Three Rivers and Early Times are said to possess rare virtues along certain lines. I have information from some of the knowing ones who are now present, and whose names I could readily call, but propriety forbids, that a few potatoes of either of these brands has the immediate effect of relieving a fellow from all past pecuniary obligations. In other words, that it gets him immediately out of debt; that it is equivalent to a discharge in bankruptcy, or a settlement at five cents on the dollar, after a deed of assignment has been made. However, I would not have you believe that I am speaking from personal experience or even personal observation on this grave question, or that I am recommending this method of liquidating past liabilities, but I am only trying to give you a small portion of our current local history.

It may be that homely evidence will not satisfy some of you; that you may desire to put this matter to a practical test; if so, I can assure you that you will find the opportunity ample.

It is said by our legal brethren above the river, that the "Purchase" lawyer possesses one peculiar characteristic, and that is that you cannot engage him in a social conversation for exceeding five minutes without his being at you some difficult legal question. It may be that while you are our guests, you will not be wholly free from assaults of this character, and you may be called upon to answer some of our questions. If so, we shall expect you to courteously do so. If you are not ready with an answer, without an examination of the books, we have good libraries, and you must examine the books, by all means you are expected to answer our questions.

In conclusion, we bid you three welcome. The city is yours; do with it as you will.

school children.

"Give the physical body its education as you feed the brain its words and figures."

When Wm. W. Hastings, of Spring field, Mass., urged these precepts at the convention of the National Educational association here yesterday a score of teachers applauded. The sentiment was generally fair for a more hygienic school room, both from the standpoint of scholar and teacher.

The question whether the American college has failed in its mission developed in the debate in the department of higher education. Samuel Wendell Williston, of the University of Chicago delivered an address on the subject.

In the department of special education Carroll G. Pierce, of Milwanaukee, urged special care of the child,
"born short," and Sybrand Westlund, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, spoke of the duty of the state board to the "exceptional child."

Both Pearce and Westlund were of the opinion that a child afflicted in mind or body should be made the subject of especial care.

In the state teachers' association department this evening, N. H. Harter, of Alabama, president of the department, delivered an address. John W. Cook, president of the state normal school of Dekalb, Illinois, delivered an address before the department of elementary education in which he expressed the opinion that the present curriculum could be improved somewhat and thereby most present needs.

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, laid down a rule for good citizenship last night when he told the members of the association "That liberty under the law" is the ideal state of existence.

Ethics in civil life was discussed by John W. Abernethy, president of the University of Alabama.

Children's Playgrounds.

In a strong plea for small parks and public playgrounds the Chicago Tribune calls attention to the increasing number of accidents to youngsters playing in busy streets.
"Prohibition of street playing," the Tribune adds, "is of no use whatever unless there is a chance to play elsewhere. To meet the needs of a great population there must be many places in which to play. It is the constant toll of dead and injured that makes the small parks and playgrounds so valuable. Their number must be increased many fold before the toll of killed and injured can be reduced much."

Messrs. Hays & Miller Bros.:
Gentlemen: I am delighted to say to you that the sample bottle of Hays' Specific I used from you has done even more than you recommended or than I anticipated. I can truly and with confidence assure any one who uses it that it will not disappoint them in any case of Rheuma-

The Wonders of Science.

It was left for the exhibitor of a photograph in the streets of Utrecht, according to an American traveler, to put the finishing touch to the wonderful invention.

There was the sound of a military band in full blast, then suddenly the tune stopped and "Halt!" rang horrily out upon the air.

"Who's that interrupting the concert?" indignantly inquired the American, edging close to the operator.

"That," said the man, surveying him blandly, "was the voice of Napoleon Bonaparte, giving the order at the battle of Waterloo."—Youth's Companion.

A novel sentence was imposed the other day in Windsor, Ont. The governor of the Sandwich Jail, having come into conflict with a judge, was declared guilty of contempt of court, and was ordered confined in his own prison for ten days.

Dickory, Dickory, Dock, Mama looked at the clock,
"Only half past nine and the clothes on the line,
I tell you washing with Fels-Naptha is fine,
And every last piece, even to baby's frock,
Is clean and white." Dickory, Dickory, Dock.

Ask any doctor if there is a quicker way to catch cold than to get all steamed up and then go into the cold air.

Some women folks get colds like that nearly every washday.

They do their washing in the old boiling way with a hot fire and steaming suds.

The Fels-Naptha way of washing is a wonderful health-saver.

It takes away all danger of catching cold.

The washing is done in cool or lukewarm water—no boiling or steaming, no hot suds.

It's much easier, too.

You don't wear yourself out because the Fels-Naptha does all the work—no hard rubbing.

There are other reasons why you should use Fels-Naptha Soap.

It doesn't take half as long as the old way; saves fuel; much easier on the clothes and makes them cleaner and sweeter.

But, if you value your health, that alone is good reason for doing your washing the Fels-Naptha way. In the Winter or Summer.

Follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

Clarksville Tobacco.
Clarksville, Ky., July 7.—The receipts of tobacco in the local market in June were the heaviest of any month the season, and the sales correspondingly large. Receipts amounted to 3,000 hogheads, and sales 5-349 hogheads. The total stocks
July 1 were 5,517 hogheads; planters' stocks 3,651 hogheads; buyers' stocks 1,866 hogheads. The receipts at the independent market last week were 320 hogheads; sales 38 hogheads. The prices continue high with a good demand for all offerings.
Nearly all of the home tobacco in the country has been either sold or delivered to the association pricing bodies, and sales on the local home were small, amounting to 40,000 hogheads. The local salesmen for the Dark Tobacco Growers' association sold 800 hogheads during the week, with several trades pending.
Planters have been shipping to Clark-ville from small storage points, and are finding ready sales.

Livestock.
Louisville, Ky., July 7.—Cattle—
Receipts 31 head; for two days 1-

179. The market rated very quiet today; prices were generally steady.
A fair demand was in evidence for the choice heavy weight butcher cattle; others neglected and draggy.
Feeder and stocker trade slow, hogs and canners dull. Much cow trade sluggish. No heavy shipping cattle here today.

Cattle Receipts 111; for two days 233. The market rated firm and higher; bulk of the best 6 1/2 @ 7; medium 4 @ 6 1/2 c; common 2 1/2 @
4 c.

Hogs Receipts 725; for two days
233. The market ruled firm and active, at an advance of 10 @ 15c over yesterday's prices. Selected country-hogs, 165 pounds and up $8.45 @ 8.50;
140 to 165 lbs. $7.35; pigs $5 @ $6.75; roughs $7 down the market closed about steady.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts 1,715;
for two days 15,750. The market ruled firm to a shade better than yesterday; quality of lambs some better. Bulk of the "top lambs" sold around $8.65 @ 8.75, with rather a light trim, and some fair to good lambs from $7.25 @ 8; a few prime heavy Kentucky lambs sold as high as $8.40
and one fancy load of ewe and wether lambs went over the scales at $8.65.
Seconds sold $6.75 @ 6.25; culls $3 @

Naval Academy Liner Aired.
Washington, July 6.—A board of marine officers will assemble at Annapolis in a short time to investigate the case of Second Lieutenant James H. Sutton, of the marine corps. That officer, while a student at the school of application at Annapolis, in October, 1907, was killed by a pistol shot under somewhat mysterious circumstances. A board of officers which investigated the case at the time reported that the shot which killed the officer was fired by his own hand. The members of the officer's family were not at all satisfied with that conclusion. At their urgent request the department has consented to have another investigation. Several officers of the marine corps who have knowledge of the tragedy have been ordered home from station in the Philippines for examination.

Electric lights, fed by storage batteries, have been installed in a new London ambulance.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS IN SESSION

REPORT ON STREET WORK AND MATERIAL RECEIVED.

June, 1909, Less Expensive Than Same Month Last Year In Department.

LOTS OF ROUTINE BUSINESS.

The board of public works held a short meeting yesterday afternoon in which the routine business was disposed of. It was decided to have a called session next Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of opening bids for the improvement of the alley on Farley place, and for the construction of sidewalks on Eleventh street between Broadway and Jefferson. At the same time the board will award the contract for the graveling of the alley between Broadway and Jefferson, Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. The alley fronts the property of Earl Palmer, who was anxious for the improvement and will pay part of the cost. The alley is used by many people as a street and it is intended to have a walk four feet wide on one side. A number of shade trees are on the public property, but the members thought it not advisable to cut the trees down, and will permit them to stand much to the pleasure of the property owners.

President Rudy reported that two cars of crushed stone have arrived for repaving Broadway beyond Eleventh street. City Engineer Washington reported that the work of repaving South Tenth street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue with tar is progressing rapidly. With good weather the work will be completed in a few days.

A petition from residents, asking for a street light at Seventeenth and Clay streets, was taken up by the board. Also the needs of street lights on Kentucky avenue between Twelfth and Fifteenth streets, and in Little's addition were taken up. The members promised to inspect the proposed sites before the next meeting, when the requests probably will be granted.

Street Inspector Bell filed a report comparing the expenses of the department with last year. In June, 1908, the payroll was $38,980, while in June, 1909, the payroll was $26,707; the expenses for June, 1908, were $228.55, while June, 1909, were $225.94.

City Engineer Washington reported that an alley between Twelfth, Thirteenth, Ohio and Tennessee streets was the private property of E. G. Boone. The board decided if Mr. Boone would dedicate the property to the city the city would improve the alley.

Lighting Plant.

The improvements at the city electric plant were reported as progressing rapidly by J. O. Keelher, superintendent of the light plant. The work on the boiler is nearly complete. The new brick stack lacks about 30 feet of being completed. Tuesday morning the colored workmen of James Jewell & Son, the contractors, struck and the work was delayed. In the afternoon the contractors secured the services of white laborers to fill the strikers' places, and the work is under way.

Present at the meeting were: President Richard Rudy, Secretary Louis Kolb and Mr. Phil Lack.

President Helps Orphans.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Mason, Mo., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates the vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up thin, pale, weak children or run-down people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at all druggists.

Progress in Turkey.

Things are moving in Turkey, and it seems as if the advocate will no longer be looked upon as one possessing no calling not even profession. The Young Turks have accomplished a veritable revolution. Henceforth the advocate will be permitted to have his notepaper "headed," bearing his name, profession, address, and even the number of his telephone. The advocate, it is true, is not yet permitted to place on the paper the hours at which he can be consulted, nor can he have a tariff of honorariums.—London Globe.

AN OLD-TIME PRESCRIPTION in a modern product. From time immemorial sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost every one knows the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow. In addition the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. Such a preparation is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50c, and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by W. J. Gilbert.

Suits Filed in County Court.

W. H. Husbands, state revenue agent, filed suit against Mrs. Mary G. Palmer for back taxes alleged due on three lots at Twentieth street and Broadway since the year 1904. In the suit the property is alleged to be valued at $2,000. The 20 per cent penalty is asked.

A Horrible Hold-Up.

"About ten years ago my brother was 'held up' in his work health and happiness by what was believed to be hopeless Consumption," writes W. R. Lipscomb, of Washington, N. C. "He took all kinds of remedies and treatment from several doctors, but found no help till he used Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles. He is a well man today." It's quick to relieve and the surest cure for weak or sore lungs, Hemorrhages, Coughs, and Colds, Bronchitis, LaGrippe, Asthma and all bronchial affections, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Bathing Suits Shock.

La Jolla, the picturesque resort on the cliffs by the sea, where many Angelinos summer, is to undergo a thorough renovation as to morals, if the protests of a few of the nervously inclined are heeded by the council. A petition has been presented asking that an ordinance be passed requiring bathers to wear costumes extending below the knee, and to fit closely around the neck. Also that no one in bathing costume be allowed farther than 300 feet inland from the surf line. This latter is for the purpose of excluding bathers in swim attire from visiting the shops, or going in and out of the postoffice. A covering over the forms of those thus attired is asked when they emerge over the dead line of 300 feet.

It is said the appearance of bathers in the shopping district with scarcely any covering over their bodies has greatly shocked those who do not go near the water at all.—EX.

Don't Get a Divorce.

A western judge granted a divorce on account of ill-temper and bad breath. Dr. King's New Life Pills would have prevented it. They cure Constipation, causing bad breath and Liver Trouble, the ill-temper, dispel colds, banish headaches, conquer chills. 25c at all druggists.

Another Joshua.

During a recent term of the United States court at Frankfort, Ky., there appeared before Judge A. J. M. Cochran a tall, lanky, awkward specimen of humanity from the mountainous regions of Jackson, Ky., where the chief industries of the natives are ferds and illicit stills, says Lippincott's.

"What is your name?" said Judge Cochran, when the mountaineer was brought before the bar.

"Joshua—Joshua Duncan," was the halting response.

"Joshua, hey?" remarked the judge with a twinkle in his eye that strangely belied the gravity of his countenance. "Are you the Joshua that commanded the sun to stand still?"

"No, judge," responded the prisoner with a corresponding glint in his own shrewd gray eyes.

"No, judge, I'm the Joshua that commanded the 'moonshine' still."

MOTHER'S FRIEND

USED HOUSE PAINT ON FACE

New Woman Sues For Irreparable Damage and Embarrassment.

Trenton, N. J., July 6.—Mrs. Anna Talon of this city has announced her intention of filing suit within the next few days for $5,000 damages against a druggist. She asserts that the act of a boy employed by the druggist in selling roof paint for a check rouge caused irreparable damage to her feelings and undue embarrassment.

According to her declaration in the bill of complaint, Mrs. Talon, early in the evening, had to dress hastily and after applying the rouge went in a cab to the home of a friend, where a family celebration was in progress.

As soon as she entered the house,

Becoming a mother should be a source of joy, but the suffering incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of dread. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of much of the pain of maternity; it is not only made less painful, but danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, and the system is prepared for the coming event. "It is worth its weight in gold," say many who have used it.

BINGHAM

CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR ON THE ANTI-TAMMANY TICKET.

His Discharge From Police Commissionership By McClelland Results in Split.

New York, July 7.—What Tammany Hall may expect because of the recent ousting of Police Commissioner Bingham by Mayor McClelland, is indicated in a statement attributed to Bingham, published here last night, saying that he will be a candidate for mayor on the anti-Tammany ticket if the people want him. This is the first statement committing himself on the political situation attributed to him since his departure for Christ
Nova Scotia, where he was interviewed.

Before he left New York, Bingham was urged by the leaders of the anti-Tammany movement to consider accepting the mayoralty nomination, and his removal from the police com-missionership promises to be one of the important issues of the approaching municipal campaign.

IN METROPOLIS

Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips, of Vienna, visited Mr. and Mrs. Will Phillips over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jobe visited their daughter, Mrs. Stella Brooks, of Paducah, Monday.

Mr. Lee Morris and family have returned from a visit to relatives at Melber, Ky.

Archie Quante has returned from an extended visit to his sister at Lebanon, Ill. Mrs. Maud Bachman accompanied him home for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Ellen Quante.

Mr. and Mrs. George Frazier, better known here as Dias Wagener, of Fort Worth, Texas, are visiting Mr.
and Mrs. W. P. Walker. This is Mr.
Frazier's first visit home since he left 16 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Walker and little daughter Virginia, of St. Louis, visited the family of W. P. Walker Sunday.

Mrs. Maud Bachman and Miss Cora Quante spent Monday in Brookport with friends and on business.

The picnic at Fort Massac Monday in celebration to the Fourth of July, was a great success. It was given by the Woman's club.

Mrs. Jeff Sellers returned to her home in Cairo Sunday after several days' visit with friends here.

May Have Been a Bomb.

Chicago, July 7.—An explosion wrecked, and fire destroyed the former home of the mother of George W.
Jackson, a contractor, early today.
The house was vacant. Police believe gas exploded and others think it may have been a bomb thrown by some one, who lost relatives in the crib disaster in January. Jackson was building the crib where 72 lives were lost.

Roosevelt Saves Himself.

Lake Nausau, July 7.—Advice from the hunting party say Roosevelt's marksmanship saved him from death again. He came suddenly upon the largest and finest lion yet encountered. The latter charged furiously and Teddy barely had time to fire. One shot pierced the beast's heart. The party had good luck with all kinds of game.

Heavy Stakes at Golf.

Rock Island, Ill., July 7.—The golf match for the largest stake in the history of the game in this country, began this morning. The links are at the Arsenal Country club.
Ralph Hoagland, formerly a Yale athlete, and J. D. Cady, runner up in the Western championship last year, play 72 holes. Backers betting $500 a hole, making a total wager

MISS HOPKINS RETURNS FROM LIBRARY MEETING.

Miss Jesse Hopkins, librarian of public library, has returned home after attending the National Librarian's congress at Bretton Woods, N.
M. The congress was in session from Monday till Saturday and during that time many interesting and instructive papers were read. Prominent librarians from all over the country were in attendance and the subject of library administration was discussed. On her way back Miss Hopkins stopped at Boston, New York and Washington and inspected
the libraries at those places.

KY. STATE BAR

Lexington; J. S. Wortham, Letch-field; Judge Emmet Fields, Louisville, and Thomas R. Brown, Catletts-burg.

The speech of Hon. Henry Burnett, of Louisville, on "Kentucky's Contribution of Jurisprudence," was the feature of the morning session, and it was a compendium of history and development of jurisprudence in the state, the land laws, unique decisions and legislation and political controversies.

Among other things he referred to the election in 1825, following the bitter period, when the legislature, after failure to unseat the court of appeals by three-fourths vote, passed a law creating a new court. And he dwelt upon the action of the court of appeals, composed principally of Democrats, which decided the Louisville election of 1905 against their own party. He said: "After the passions aroused by the Goebel election and the Louisville election of Special Train Arrives.

A special train with the members of the central and eastern sections of the state arrived this morning about 1 o'clock. Attorney General Wickersham was in a special car, while the others occupied special cars. The lawyers were out early this morning, and spent the morning in handshaking and sightseeing over the city. Some of the lawyers arrived last night, but the majority arrived early this morning.
Secretary R. A. McDowell said he looked for a most successful meeting with a good attendance despite the fact that Paducah was in the extreme western section of the state.

Those who arrived this morning:

on the special train were: Attorney General Wickersham, of Washington; President John R. Allen, of Lexington; R. A. McDowell, secretary, of Louisville; John K. Todd, treasurer, of Shelbyville; Judge J. T. Nunn and Judge John M. Lassing, of the court of appeals; J. V. Norman, William

GLASS WORKERS DISLIKE PLAN OF Making West and Middle West Dumping Ground.

New York, July 7.—The immigration question was discussed at length by the delegates to the annual convention of the Flint Glass Workers' Union of North America in Brooklyn yesterday. A communication from the National Liberal Immigration league urged the convention to support the league in its efforts to persuade the national government to "turnish free transportation westward for incoming aliens, thereby relieving the congestion of labor in the eastern cities."

The delegates from the west and middle west opposed the league's scheme on the ground that the western cities are already sufficiently occupied with the problem of caring for their unemployed, and would not care to be made the official dumping ground for unskilled alien labor.
